The Eagles Come of Age

With this issue, The Phyllis Schlafly Report completes its 17th year of consecutive monthly publication. Since two Sections of the Report were issued each month for so many years of the STOP ERA battle (one on ERA and another on a different subject), this is actually the 317th separate Phyllis Schlafly Report (not counting Eagle Forum Newsletters).

As we begin our 18th Anniversary Year next month, we want to say "thanks" to our members/subscribers who have been with us since our first issue in August 1967—and to welcome the thousands of others who have joined our movement along the way. The Phyllis Schlafly Report has been an essential tool in the growth of the conservative and pro-family movements, providing concise and accurate information on timely topics of national concern. It already had a national reputation for reliability and newsworthiness by the time STOP ERA was founded in 1972.

This Report is the lifeline of communication for Eagle Forum (our national membership lobbying organization), for Eagle Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund (our 501(c)(3) educational organization), for Eagle Forum PAC (our political action committee), and for dozens of other organizations that function under other names but share our goals and follow our leadership. We are more accurately described as a movement than as an organization.

This month we share with you some pictures from various recent conferences sponsored by Eagle Forum and Eagle Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund.

Equal Pay for Comparable Worth

was the title of a two-day conference sponsored by Eagle Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund on October 17-18, 1983, at the Vista International Hotel in Washington, D.C. The 19 speakers included businessmen, legislators, economists, academicians, and lawyers. The proceedings, published under the title Equal Pay for Unequal Work, have become the major reference book on this subject.

Phyllis Schlafly and William E. Simon, president of the John M. Olin Foundation, which gave the grant to finance the conference on Comparable Worth.

Dr. Ernest W. Lefever, President of the Ethics and Public Policy Center, speaking on "The Ethics of the Freeze Movement" at the "Moral Duty" Seminar.

"Discrimination, Productivity, and Marriage" was the subject of this panel addressed by two Professors of Economics: Dr. Cotton Mather Lindsay of Emory University and Dr. Walter Williams of George Mason University.

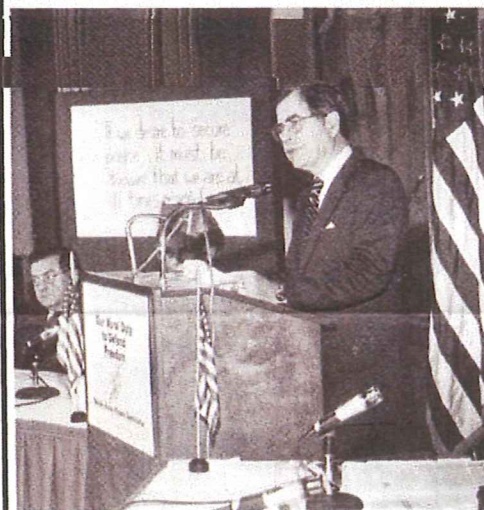

Congressman Denny Smith of Oregon, speaking on "A Legislator's View Of Comparable Worth."

Dr. William V. O'Brien, Professor of Government at Georgetown University, and Rabbi Joshua O. Haberman, Senior Rabbi of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, dialoguing after their speeches, respectively, on "The Just War Doctrine in the Nuclear Age" and "The Jewish Tradition and National Defense."

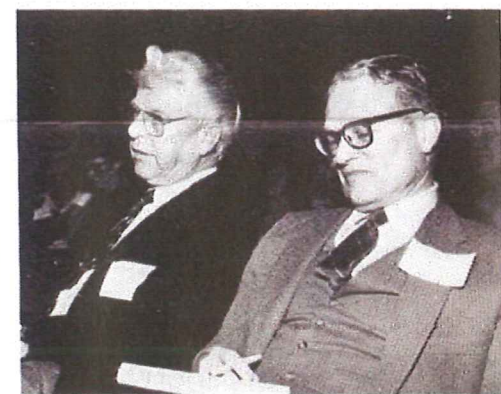

Economist George Gilder, who addressed the conference on "The Relationship of Women to Wealth and Poverty."

Our Moral Duty To Defend Freedom was the title of a seminar sponsored by Eagle Forum Education & Legal Defense Fund on March 7, 1983. It presented scholarly viewpoints from different religious perspectives.

Above: Senator Jeremiah Denton, former Prisoner of War in Vietnam, opening the "Moral Duty" Seminar at the Reserve Officers Association Building, in Washington, D.C.

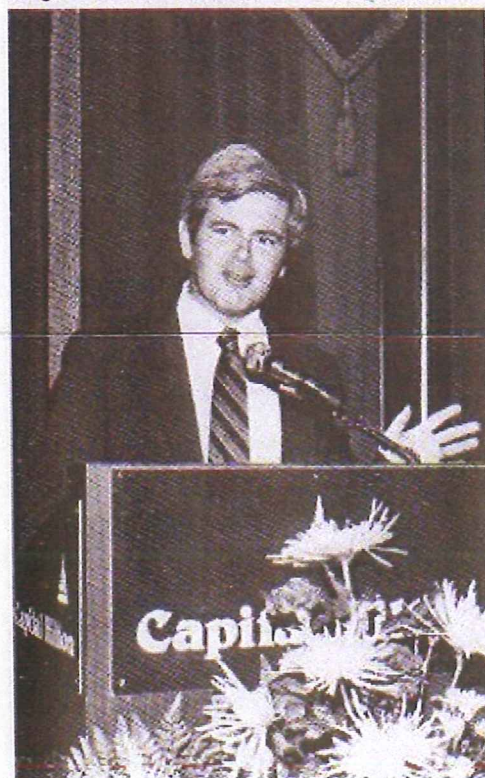

Lt. General Daniel O. Graham and Brig. General Albion Knight were among the many distinguished participants at the "Moral Duty" Seminar. General Knight also lectured at the Eagle Rainbow Seminar on July 1, 1982, and General Graham lectured on High Frontier at another Eagle Forum Seminar called "Freeze or Anti-Freeze" on July 19, 1983.

The woman in the center has short blonde hair and is wearing a white jacket over a dark top. The woman on the right has dark hair and is wearing a white jacket over a dark top. They are all smiling and looking towards the camera. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

Eagle Council is the title of the annual Eagle leadership conference held every fall. These pictures are from Eagle Council XII, held September 16-18, 1983, at the Capital Hilton Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Florida Eagle Chairman Pat Herrell and Eagle Forum First Vice President Tottie Ellis, who spoke on lobbying tactics.

The Rainbow Celebration on June 30, 1982, ended the battle over the Equal Rights Amendment, which had lasted ten years and three months (including the unfair time extension). Held at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C., it featured a star-studded cast of 50 V.I.P.s, including Senators Jesse Helms and Jeremiah Denton, Congressman Philip Crane, Under Secretary of State James Buckley, Dr. Jerry Falwell, and a dozen fearless journalists. Below, right: Senator Jesse Helms, Phyllis Schlafly, and emcee Congressman Robert K. Dornan.

ERA was immediately reintroduced into Congress, and in January 1983 Speaker Tip O'Neill gave it his full blessing as H.J. Res. #1. On November 15, 1983, he brought it to a House vote under Suspension of the Rules and ERA lost. Above: Congressman Henry Hyde and Phyllis Schlafly, on CBS Face the Nation on November 20, 1983, explain to N.O.W. president Judy Goldsmith why ERA lost.
