

As requested by the auto-reply email received from your office, you will find all meaningful correspondence regarding our FOIA request attached.

Our dispute is that we disagree with the premise under which we were denied the documents requested. We never authorized that our FOIA request be split into two requests, which was part of the basis under which our request was denied. Furthermore, the individuals we have coordinated with on this don't seem to have been reading our request very closely. We were quite explicit about what we wanted from the very beginning, yet we have been repeatedly told that we requested entirely different information.
